Section 1: Validation Framework

Before you build anything, validate that people will pay for your idea. This framework saves you from building products nobody wants.

The 3-Step Validation Process

Step 1: Problem Interviews (Days 1-3)

Talk to 10-15 people in your target market. Don't pitch your solution — just understand their problem. Ask:

- What's the hardest part about [PROBLEM AREA]?
- How are you currently solving this?
- What frustrates you about current solutions?
- How much time/money does this problem cost you?
- Have you tried to solve this before? What happened?

Step 2: Smoke Test (Days 4-7)

Create a simple landing page describing your product and drive traffic. Measure:

- Email signup rate (target: 10%+ of visitors)
- Click-through on 'Buy' button (even if product doesn't exist yet)
- Comments and questions from visitors
- Social media engagement on launch-related posts

Step 3: Pre-Sale (Days 8-10)

Offer a 'founding member' discount to your email list. Even 5-10 sales prove demand. If you can't get 5 sales, pivot the idea before building.

Section 2: MVP Workflow

Build the smallest version of your product that delivers real value. Ship fast, improve later.

MVP Scope Definition

List every feature you imagine. Now cut 80%. The remaining 20% is your MVP. Ask: 'If I could only deliver ONE transformation, what would it be?'

MVP Build Timeline (14 Days)

- Days 1-3: Outline the core content/modules
- Days 4-7: Create the first draft of each module
- Days 8-10: Format and polish (PDF, templates, worksheets)
- Days 11-12: Create bonus materials (cheat sheets, checklists)
- Days 13-14: Final review and upload to Gumroad

MVP Quality Standards

Your MVP doesn't need to be perfect, but it must be complete and actionable. Before launching, verify:

- Every promise in your sales copy is fulfilled
- All links, downloads, and resources work
- The product is easy to consume (clear structure, good formatting)
- A beginner can follow it without additional help
- It delivers at least one clear, measurable result

Section 3: Pricing Strategy

Price based on value delivered, not time invested. Here's how to find your price.

The Value-Based Pricing Formula

1. What's the outcome worth to your customer? (e.g., $500 value)
2. What's the next cheapest alternative? (e.g., $200 course)
3. Price at 10-25% of the value created = $50-$125

Pricing Tiers

- Basic ($17-$37): Core product only (PDF, templates, guide)
- Standard ($47-$97): Core + bonus materials + templates
- Premium ($147-$297): Everything + community access or 1:1 call

Psychological Pricing Tactics

- Use charm pricing ($47, $97) not round numbers
- Show the 'value stack' total ($500+ value for $47)
- Offer a 'founding member' discount for early buyers
- Create urgency with limited-time bonuses, not fake scarcity
- Include a money-back guarantee to reduce risk

Section 4: Launch Sequence

A structured 14-day launch sequence that builds momentum and maximizes sales.

Pre-Launch (Days 1-7)

- Day 1-2: Tease the problem on social media
- Day 3-4: Share your story and why you're building this
- Day 5: Reveal the product (sneak peek)
- Day 6: Share testimonials or beta results
- Day 7: Open cart with founding member discount

Launch Week (Days 8-14)

- Day 8: Launch email + social posts (main push)
- Day 9: Address FAQs and objections
- Day 10: Share a case study or walkthrough
- Day 11: Mid-launch bonus announcement
- Day 12: Social proof showcase (testimonials, screenshots)
